

Okay, I have to make a confession to you today. I have failed at one of the things in this modern age that I have tried to pride myself on...my "screen time". If you are reading this devotion on Facebook....you know what screen time is, you are adding to yours. I have spent more time on my screen lately, a lot more. One of the cutest things I have watched is a father and his young daughter singing Randy Newman's "You've got a Friend in Me" song. My favorite line in the song is "Some folks might be a little bit smarter than I am bigger and stronger too, maybe, but none of them will ever love you the way I do, baby it's me and you."

That's one of those sentiments that brings warmth to your heart, especially if you have someone in your life that resembles that line. We all long for that type of relationship in life with a spouse or a life-long friend. Someone to stand with you in life's ups and downs brings a great deal of comfort. As good as that is from a person, we have even better words from Christ. "No longer do I call you servants, for the servant does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, for all that I have heard from my Father I have made known to you." John 15:15. We have a friend in Jesus better than any other! Do a little search this morning and type in a search engine "Jesus as my friend Bible verses" and do a little more reading on your own...it's okay, this type of screen time is encouraged! Have a great day my friends!
